Who is your favorite Author and why?

My favorite author is Jerry Spenelli. He writes funny books like, Do the Funky Pickle, and just silly little books I like to read.

What genre do you prefer to read?

I prefer to read adventure and humor. I like adventure because it usually leaves you in suspense, and humor is just plain because who doesn't like to have a laugh every now and then?

Where do you learn about books you might want to read in the future?

I learn about books normally at any library. I want to go read at the Herrick Memorial Library in the future; it has lots of books to read and lots of places to get information.

The Wishing Spell is a wonderful book by Chris Colfer. It is for those who seek adventure and fantasy. The Wishing Spell is about two twins, Alex and Conner, who receive a fairy-tale book from their grandmother. One day, the book started glowing and revealed a portal. The twins fell in a land of fairy-tale characters such as Cinderella and Goldilocks. The only way for the twins to get back home is by collecting a series of items, which will set off a spell. Getting the items will not be easy, nor will it be safe. The spell could only be used once. Along the way the twins discover that someone else is after the wishing spell items, too. All they can do is hope they can get the items and get back home before someone else uses it. Will Alex and Conner make it out alive? Will they get the Wishing Spell items first? Read the book along with two other books in the series!
