What genre do you prefer to read?

Mystery and Realistic fiction.

Where do you learn about books you might want to read in the future?

I would like to read other adventures.

Where do you like to read best?

On the couch with my rabbit or in my bed.

When is your favorite time of the day to read and why?

All time of day, because it is too hard to decide.

Do you love dolphins? If you do, "Dolphin Dreams" by Catherine Hakpa is a great book for you! You should read this book because it takes place in the beautiful waters of the Pacific Ocean. The characters in this book are Avery, a girl who fears the ocean and loves dolphins. Maria, loves dolphins and loves to draw, but doesn't show her drawings to anyone. Seurat, a special dolphin the girls love and become friends with. The girls learn that no matter how different you are from someone you can always be friends and you can overcome anything.

Avery moves to her cousins' home. She spots a cove with dolphins and meets Maria. Avery goes to the cove every day. One day Avery almost drowns. Seurat saves her. While Avery is holding onto Seurat she feels a lump on his stomach and tells Maria. Both of them panic. The girls get into a fight. Can they get along and work together to help Seurat? Can Avery overcome her fear of the ocean?

This book is a must read for all fifth and sixth graders who love the ocean and are dolphin dreamers. You should dive into this book today!
