Who is your favorite Author and why?

James Patterson because he writes good books that I enjoy.

What genre do you prefer to read?

Non Fiction.

Where do you learn about books you might want to read in the future?

In school I learn about books that I might want to read in the future.

Where do you like to read best?

On my couch in my living room.

When is your favorite time of the day to read and why?

Before I go to bed because I can relax.

The book I read was Treasure Hunters by James Patterson. Four kids have to live without their mom and dad who are secretly CIA agents. They have the directions and clues to save their mom and this will bring them many challenges. My insight of the story is, “if you face many challenges, don’t give up”.

When their mom is taken in Cyprus, they only have their dad, who later falls overboard on their boat during a storm. Later, they find their dad’s notes on what they need and where to go in order to save their mom. During the journey to save their mom they meet many people who are either helpful or not helpful. Along the journey they get help from their uncle Timothy who is also a CIA agent.

I thought the book was good. It had a lot of adventure and some action. I would recommend this book to people who like adventures, kids in fifth-seventh grade might enjoy reading this book.
