Who is your favorite Author?

I love reading Rick Riordan books because I love the adventure he puts in his stories.

What genre do you prefer to read?

I love to read science fiction for all the extra-terrestrial adventure.

Where do you like to read best?

I love reading in my nice, warm bed.

When is your favorite time to read?

I always read before I go to bed; I like to read until I slowly drift off to sleep.

Force Out by Tim Green is a book about two boys who both want to get on a baseball team in their hometown. The team only has one spot left open. The boys try their hardest to get on the team, while trying to keep their friendship. They go through many challenges and obstacles to get on the team. When either one of the boys gets into trouble, the other is there to help out. Every so often the boys do something that threatens their friendship. Even though their friendship is often threatened, the boys remain friends who continue to help each other.

This story shows the reader what true friends really are. Will the boys be able to uphold their friendship?

Read Force Out if you want to understand true friendship, or just want to read a good book.
