Who is your favorite Author and why?
Rin Chupeco because she is very descriptive in what she says.

What genre do you prefer to read?
Thriller/horror because I just like creepy and mysterious stories.

Where do you learn about books you might want to read in the future?
Asking my mom because we like the same things.

Where do you like to read best?
In my room in complete silence.

The Girl from the Well is a story about a boy named Tarquin who had just lost his mother. Tarquin's mom had been crazy and was in an insane asylum. In her room in the asylum, Tarquin's mom had some old dolls that frightened him. Tarquin's mother died in the asylum, and before she died, she asked Tarquin and her family to take her ashes to her hometown in Japan. While in Japan, Tarquin came across some of those same creepy dolls, almost exactly like the ones his mother had in her asylum room. It is here that Tarquin learned about ghosts, and met Okiku, a good ghost who was trying to help him.

His cousin, Callie, who went with him to Japan, also saw the ghost. What Tarquin and Callie learned from Okiku was that not all ghosts are good. For some reason, that he does not understand, the bad ghosts are trying to kill Tarquin and his cousin.

Okiku tried to help Tarquin and Callie figure out a way to get rid of the ghosts. If they didn't, they would take over Tarquin's body and he would die. Were they able to get rid of the bad ghosts? You will have to read to find out.
